

Stone Soldier

Description

Stone soldiers wielding spears, some have shields. These statues come to life once you get close to them, but they can be woken up from a distance with projectiles.

Location

Drangleic Castle

In the room with many soul-devouring doors and in the room with the contraption that activates the elevator.

Spear & Shield

Bonfire Intensity	Health	Souls
1	720	350
2	~1,000	700
8	?	1,400

Spear

Bonfire Intensity	Health	Souls
1	600	350
2	?	700
8	?	1,400

Weakness

- Strong against Thrust-Type Attacks
- Average against Slash-Type Attacks
- Vulnerable against Strike-Type Attacks

Resistance

- High Fire, Magic and Lightning Resistance
- Low Dark Resistance

Drops

- Stone Soldier Spear (rare)
- Llewellyn Shield (very rare)
- Titanite Slab (rare)

Note

- They respawn indefinitely, as they are needed to open the soul-devouring doors.
- Their flashy spear routines hit hard and in very quick succession, but they spend much longer recovering from a completely missed swing as opposed to a blocked one. Don't tank all of their hits, dodge them instead to gain an attack window.
- One of each pair ceases spawning after the door behind the pair is opened. It is not dependent on which one provided the soul to open the door, as even using a Ruin Sentinel's soul to open the door result gives the same result and the said Ruin Sentinel still spawns as before.
- Immune to poison.
